DEJAN LESKAROSKI

EVP, Chief Revenue Officer

Dejan Leskaroski serves as Executive Vice President & Chief Revenue Officer (CRO) at Mavenir, where he is responsible for defining the company's revenue strategy and delivering strategic growth across an AI-native product portfolio. His focus is on predictable execution, value-centric engagements with operators, and strengthening a resilient revenue engine that accelerates customer adoption of cloud-native solutions.

With over twenty five years in telecommunications, Dejan previously led Product Management for Mavenir's packet core portfolio—spanning the Evolved Packet Core (EPC), cloud-native 5G Core (5GC), and Converged Packet Core supporting 2G/3G/4G/5G and Wi-Fi access. He has delivered solutions to Tier-1 operators worldwide, bridging product strategy with commercialization while driving NFV/cloud platform integration and end-to-end orchestration.

As CRO, Dejan champions a data-driven operating rhythm and close alignment across Product, Sales, Marketing, and Operations to shorten time-to-value and enhance customer success —advancing Mavenir's transition from AI-integrated to AI-native networks.
